

OBTAINING ACCESSIBLE FILES FOR UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH PRESS TITLES VIA BIBLIOVAULT

If you are an accessibility official for a college or university, you can find out if an electronic version of a book might be available from the BiblioVault by searching for the title, author or ISBN in the search box on the right-side of the top menu navigation on the BiblioVault webpage.

If you are a student, please contact your school's accessibility coordinator to submit your accessible file request.

If you find that a book you need is included in the BiblioVault, please choose the "Request accessible file" link you'll find on the book page. BiblioVault will fulfill the request as quickly as possible, although we cannot guarantee that you will receive files in less than two weeks.

If a book is not in the BiblioVault or your search returns no results, please contact Eileen O'Malley with your request at: eomalley@upress.pitt.edu

The screenshot shows the BiblioVault website interface. At the top, there is a green header with the BiblioVault logo and a search box on the right, which is circled in red and labeled "search box". Below the header is a blue navigation bar with links for "RELATED BOOKS", "NEW SEARCH", "BROWSE BOOKS", and "ABOUT BIBLIOVAULT". The main content area features a book cover for "Weeds: An Environmental History of Metropolitan America" by Zachary J. S. Falck. To the right of the cover is the book's title and author information, including publication details and classification numbers. A red circle highlights the "REQUEST ACCESSIBLE FILE" link in the navigation menu, with a label "Request accessible file link" pointing to it. Below the book information, there is a section titled "ABOUT THIS BOOK" with a detailed description of the book's content. At the bottom of the page, there is a footer with the Zotero logo and text indicating that reference metadata is exposed for Zotero via unAPI.
