

Contents

List of Illustrations ix

Preface xi

1. Planning and the Industrial City 1
2. Ring-Led Development and Planning 15
3. If Ever a City Needed the Definite Plan 51
4. The Rebirth of Planning in Post–World War I Pittsburgh 102
5. Planning and Professionalism in the 1920s 137
6. The Limitations of Planning 159
7. The Depression, the New Deal, and Planning’s Survival 194
8. Urban Crisis and the Advent of Renaissancemanship 227
9. A Scaffolding for Urban Renaissance 270

Notes 279

Index 323