

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	3
Irene Cheng, Charles L. Davis II, and Mabel O. Wilson
I RACE AND THE ENLIGHTENMENT
1 Notes on the Virginia Capitol	23
Nation, Race, and Slavery in Jefferson's America
Mabel O. Wilson
2 American Architecture in the Black Atlantic	43
William Thornton's Design for the United States Capitol
Peter Minosh
3 Drawing the Color Line	59
Silence and Civilization from Jefferson to Mumford
Reinhold Martin
4 From "Terrestrial Paradise" to "Dreary Waste"	79
Race and the Chinese Garden in European Eyes
Addison Godel
II RACE AND ORGANICISM
5 Henry Van Brunt and White Settler Colonialism in the Midwest	99
Charles L. Davis II
6 The "New Birth of Freedom"	116
The Gothic Revival and the Aesthetics of Abolitionism
Joanna Merwood-Salisbury
7 Structural Racism in Modern Architectural Theory	134
Irene Cheng

III	RACE AND NATIONALISM
8	Race and Miscegenation in Early Twentieth-Century Mexican Architecture Luis E. Carranza	155
9	Modern Architecture and Racial Eugenics at the Esposizione Universale di Roma Brian L. McLaren	172
10	The Invention of Indigenous Architecture Kenny Cupers	187
IV	RACE AND REPRESENTATION
11	Erecting the Skyscraper, Erasing Race Adrienne Brown	203
12	Modeling Race and Class Architectural Photography and the U.S. Gypsum Research Village, 1952-1955 Dianne Harris	218
V	RACE AND COLONIALISM
13	Race and Tropical Architecture The Climate of Decolonization and "Malayanization" Jiat-Hwee Chang	241
14	"Compartmentalized World" Race, Architecture, and Colonial Crisis in Kenya and London Mark Crinson	259
15	Style, Race, and a Mosque of the "Òyìnbó Dúdú" (White-Black) in Lagos Colony, 1894 Adedoyin Teriba	277

VI	RACE AND URBANISM
16	Black and Blight Andrew Herscher	291
17	And Thus Not Glowing Brightly Noah Purifoy's Junk Modernism Lisa Uddin	308
18	Open Architecture, Rightlessness, and Citizens-to-Come Esra Akcan	324
	Notes	339
	Bibliography	411
	Contributors	423
	Index	429