

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements

Introduction: Modernity from Within and Without:
Observing Power with Both Eyes

Chapter 1: Solving the Indian Problem: The Genealogy of Autochthonous Discourse

Foundational Ambiguity

Racial Regeneration and the Feigned Authenticity of the Autochthonous

The Irrationalist Construction of the Nation

Franz Tamayo Awakens the Nation

Chapter 2: Aestheticizing Politics, Vision, Discipline, and Allegorical Dissent

Guzmán de Rojas and Disciplinary Optics

From the Mystical Language to Cholo Dissent

Arturo Borda and the Rhetoric of Decay

Chapter 3: Politicizing Art, Demystifying Mestizaje

Céspedes Demystifies Tamayo

Montenegro on Nationalism

Zavaleta on the Skeletal and the Carnal

Chapter 4: Indianizing the Q'ara: Mestizaje Turned Upside Down

The Two Katarismos: Within, Without, Against

Moderate Katarismo: The "Theory of Both Eyes"

Radical Katarismo: El Mallku's Viscerality

Displacing Mestizaje

Negativity and Subaltern Knowledge

Subalternity's Epistemic and Political Contribution

Notes

Bibliography

Index