

CONTENTS

PREFACE IX

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS XI

- 1 Composition in the University I
- 2 The Toad in the Garden 19
- 3 The Bourgeois Subject and the Demise of Rhetorical Education 30
- 4 The Invention of Freshman English 46
- 5 Literature and Composition:
Not Separate but Certainly Unequal 79
- 6 Terms of Employment: Rhetoric Slaves and Lesser Men 118
- 7 You Can't Write Writing:
Norman Foerster and the Battle Over Basic Skills at Iowa 132
- 8 Freshman English and War 155
- 9 Around 1971: The Emergence of Process Pedagogy 187
- 10 The Politics of Composition 215
- 11 A Personal Essay on Freshman English 228
- 12 Composition's Ethic of Service, the Universal Requirement, and the Discourse of Student Need 250

NOTES 267

WORKS CITED 279

INDEX 301