

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Part I. Bringing Ideology Back In
1. The Ideological Determinants of Post-Communist Economic Reform	3
2. The International Dimension of Post-Communist Privatization	22
Part II. Probing the Czech and Russian Cases
3. The Origins and Design of Czech Large-Scale Privatization	39
4. The Origins and Design of Russian Large-Scale Privatization	71
Part III. Elaborating the Theoretical Framework
5. The Beliefs of Leaders and the Content of Reform	109
6. Power, Interests, and the Ideological Context	127
7. The Ideological Foundations of Building Compliance	157
8. The Ideological Fit and the Cost of Compliance	172
Notes	181
Bibliography	225
Index	241