

Contents

Acknowledgments, vii

Introduction: Domestic Literacy and Social Power, 1

1. Literacy and Literature in Nineteenth-Century America, 11
2. New England Authors and the Genre's Social Role, 38
3. Cross-Class Teaching and Domesticated Instruction, 74
4. Uncle Tom's Cabin as a Domestic Literacy Narrative, 116
5. Frances Harper's Literacy Program for Racial Uplift, 157
6. Missionary Motherhood, 194

Conclusion: Jane Addams, Oprah Winfrey, and Schoolteachers' Stories, 232

Notes, 241

Selected Bibliography, 299

Index, 319