

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
1 Beyond Commercial Liberalism: Conceptualizing the Political Economy of Transitions to Peace	i
2 Shifting Priorities: Egypt and Israel's Attempts at Peacemaking	33
3 The Limits of Peacemaking from Above: Jordan and Israel's Stalled Peace Process	57
4 Postwar Relations in Southeast Asia: Japan, the Philippines, and Indonesia	82
5 Government and Big Business: Normalizing Relations between Japan and South Korea	107
6 The "Classic" Case in Perspective: France and Germany from War to Union	133
7 From Enemies to Partners: The Polish-German Transition to Peace	160
8 Politics, Economics, and Peace: Setting Realistic Expectations	184
Notes	203
Bibliography	235
Index	253