

CONTENTS

List of Figures and Tables	vii
Preface	xi
Introduction	xv

Part I. The Bethlehem Iron Company, 1857–1899

1. The Early Years and the Decline of the Anthracite Iron Industry	3
2. The Establishment and Growth of Iron and Steel Making in Bethlehem	15
3. Failure in Commercial Steels, 1880–1899	32
4. Armaments and Ores	43

Part II. From a Struggling Plant to the Second Rank in Steel

5. Reorganizing and Redirecting Bethlehem Steel	67
6. War Materiel, Ships, and Commercial Products, 1904–1914	84
7. Wartime Activity, Expansion, and Mergers, 1914–1923	102
8. Bethlehem Steel in the 1920s Boom	116
9. Retrenchment, Reconstruction, and War, 1930–1945	132
10. Material Supplies, Growth, and Competition in the East, 1945–1957	150
11. Steel Making in the Far West and Midwest	165

Part III. Triumph, Crisis, and Collapse

12. Shipbuilding, Steel, and Labor in Bethlehem's Peak Years	181
13. Responding to Crises in the 1980s	210
14. Paring Away the Unviable	229
15. Hope and Hope Dashed: Trade and Rationalization during the 1990s	245
16. Into the Abyss	259

Epilogue: The Roots of Decline	271
Appendix A: Statistical Tables	275
Appendix B: Chairmen and Presidents of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, 1904–2003	286
Notes	287
Bibliography	311
Index	317