

Contents

Acknowledgments vii
List of Abbreviations ix
Political Map of Ecuador xii

1. Indigenous Peoples and State Formation in Modern Ecuador 1
A. KIM CLARK AND MARC BECKER
2. ¿Indígena o Ciudadano? Republican Laws and Highland Indian
Communities in Ecuador, 1820–1857 22
ALEEZÉ SATTAR
3. Administering the Otavalan Indian and Centralizing
Governance in Ecuador, 1851–1875 37
DEREK WILLIAMS
4. Helpless Children or Undeserving Patriarchs?
Gender Ideologies, the State, and Indian Men in Late
Nineteenth-Century Ecuador 56
ERIN O’CONNOR
5. Liberalism, Indigenismo, and Social Mobilization in Late
Nineteenth-Century Ecuador 72
MICHIEL BAUD
6. Shifting Paternalisms in Indian-State Relations, 1895–1950 89
A. KIM CLARK
7. State Building and Ethnic Discourse in Ecuador’s 1944–1945
Asamblea Constituyente 105
MARC BECKER

8. Indigenous Communities, Landlords, and the State:
Land and Labor in Highland Ecuador, 1950–1975 120
WILLIAM F. WATERS

9. Contesting Membership: Citizenship, Pluriculturalism(s), and the Contemporary Indigenous Movement 139
AMALIA PALLARES

10. Sons of Indians and Indian Sons: Military Service,
Familial Metaphors, and Multicultural Nationalism 155
BRIAN R. SELMESKI

11. Same State, Different Histories, Diverse Strategies:
The Ecuadorian Amazon 179
JULIET S. ERAZO

12. From Indigenismo to Indigenous Movements in Ecuador and Mexico 196
SHANNAN L. MATTIACE

13. Barricades and Articulations: Comparing Ecuadorian and Bolivian Indigenous Politics 209
JOSÉ ANTONIO LUCERO

14. In the Shadows of Success: Indigenous Politics in Peru and Ecuador 234
JOSÉ ANTONIO LUCERO AND MARÍA ELENA GARCÍA

- Bibliographic Essay 249
- Notes 261
- Bibliography 305
- List of Contributors 335
- Index 339