Contents

Acknowledgments vii List of Abbreviations ix Political Map of Ecuador xii

- Indigenous Peoples and State Formation in Modern Ecuador 1
   A. KIM CLARK AND MARC BECKER
- ¿Indígena o Ciudadano? Republican Laws and Highland Indian Communities in Ecuador, 1820–1857 22

  ALEEZÉ SATTAR
- 3. Administering the Otavalan Indian and Centralizing Governance in Ecuador, 1851–1875 37 DEREK WILLIAMS
- 4. Helpless Children or Undeserving Patriarchs? Gender Ideologies, the State, and Indian Men in Late Nineteenth-Century Ecuador 56
  ERIN O'CONNOR
- Liberalism, Indigenismo, and Social Mobilization in Late Nineteenth-Century Ecuador 72
   MICHIEL BAUD
- 6 Shifting Paternalisms in Indian-State Relations, 1895–1950 89

  A. KIM CLARK
- State Building and Ethnic Discourse in Ecuador's 1944–1945
   Asamblea Constituyente 105
   MARC BECKER

vi CONTENTS

8. Indigenous Communities, Landlords, and the State:
Land and Labor in Highland Ecuador, 1950–1975 120
WILLIAM F. WATERS

- Contesting Membership: Citizenship, Pluriculturalism(s), and the Contemporary Indigenous Movement 139
   AMALIA PALLARES
- Sons of Indians and Indian Sons: Military Service,
   Familial Metaphors, and Multicultural Nationalism 155
   BRIAN R. SELMESKI
- Same State, Different Histories, Diverse Strategies:
   The Ecuadorian Amazon 179
   JULIET S. ERAZO
- 12. From Indigenismo to Indigenous Movements in Ecuador and Mexico 196

  SHANNAN L. MATTIACE
- Barricades and Articulations: Comparing Ecuadorian and Bolivian Indigenous Politics 209
   JOSÉ ANTONIO LUCERO
- 14. In the Shadows of Success: Indigenous Politics in Peru and Ecuador 234
  JOSÉ ANTONIO LUCERO AND MARÍA ELENA GARCÍA

Bibliographic Essay 249 Notes 261 Bibliography 305 List of Contributors 335 Index 339