

CONTENTS

Introduction

- Reassessing the “Islamic Revival” in Central Asia xi
Pauline Jones

PART I. A View from Below: Islam and Society in Central Asia

Chapter One

- The Social Significance of Islam in Post-Soviet Central Asia: The Case of Kyrgyzstan 3
Rouslan Jalil

Chapter Two

- Beyond Piety: Self-Related Muslims in Uzbekistan 29
Svetlana Peshkova

Chapter Three

- Radical Islam from Below: The Mujaddidiya
and Hizb-ut-Tahrir in the Ferghana Valley 55
Vera Exnerova

PART II. A View from Above: Islam and the State in Central Asia

Chapter Four

- Engineering Islam: Uzbek State Policies of Control 79
David Abramson and Noah Tucker

Chapter Five

- Subversives and Saints: Sufism and the State in Central Asia 99
Emily O'Dell

Chapter Six

- Unregistered: Gray Spaces in the Soviet Regulation of Islam 127
Eren Murat Tasar

PART III. A View from Within: Sources of Religious Authority in Central Asia*Chapter Seven

- The Ascendance of Orthodoxy: Nation Building and Religious Pluralism in Central Asia 151
Noor O'Neill Borbieva

Chapter Eight

- Islam, Religious Elites, and the State in Post-Civil War Tajikistan 173
Tim Epkenhans

Chapter Nine

- When Religion Resorts to Violence: Explaining the Spatial Variation in Religious-Based Mobilization in Kyrgyzstan 199
Alisher Khamidov

PART IV. A View from Outside: International Islam and Central Asia*Chapter Ten

- The Localization of the Transnational Tablighi Jama'at Network in Kyrgyzstan 223
Mukaram Toktogulova

Chapter Eleven

- Transnational Islamic Banks and Local Markets in Central Asia 245
Aisalkyn Botoeva

Chapter Twelve

- Studying Islam Abroad: Pious Enterprises and Educational Aspirations of Young Tajik Muslims 263
Manja Stephan-Emmrich

Conclusion

Central Asia as Part of the Islamic Core

290

Pauline Jones

Notes

295

References

327

Index

353