

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments

vii

List of Abbreviations

xi

INTRODUCTION.

Neoliberalism, Labor Policy Reform, and Power
through the Lens of Chile

3

CHAPTER 1.

Class Interests and Associational Power: A Relational Approach

29

CHAPTER 2.

The Class Politics of Labor Reform during the Concertación
Administrations (1990–2001)

44

CHAPTER 3.

Associational Power Imbalances and Labor Policy Continuity:
The Bachelet Labor Reform (2015–2016)

63

CHAPTER 4.

The Problematic Construction of Associational Power:
The Case of the CUT

94

CHAPTER 5.

Collective Organization and Employer Power:
The Successful Case of the CPC

120

CHAPTER 6.

Associational Power and Labor Policy Reform in Comparative Perspective: The Cases of Argentina and Uruguay

150

CONCLUSION.

Rethinking Class Power and Labor Policy in Neoliberal Society

182

Notes

203

References

213

Index

241