

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	ix

Part I. Investigations of Nature in the Renaissance, 1450s–ca. 1610

1. Technology and Learning	5
2. Geography and Mapping	21
3. Astronomy and Astrology	42
4. A Global Natural History	61
5. Human and Animal Bodies	81
6. Mechanics and Machines	101
7. Alchemy and Magic	121
8. Historiographic Guide	137

Part II. The Epistemic Revolution, ca. 1610–1680s

9. Knowledge and Societies	149
10. Astronomy and Optics	168
11. Motion and Mechanics	187
12. Physics and Instruments	202
13. Dead and Living Bodies	221
14. Natural History and Trade	242
15. Chymistry and Atomism	263
16. Historiographic Guide	279

Part III. Investigations of Nature in the Enlightenment, 1680s–1780s

17. Reason and the Public	289
18. Mechanics and Force	304
19. Mechanics and Astronomy	320
20. Optics and Chemistry	335
21. Heat and Electricity	352
22. Natural History and Taxonomy	369
23. Healthy and Diseased Bodies	388
24. Historiographic Guide	407
Final Reflections: A Global Age	417
Chronological Outline	427
Selected Bibliography	433
Index	441