

CONTENTS

I've Never Stopped Loving Anyone 3

I.

Why I Am a Poet 7

I Never Touch the Stuff but Oh It Touches Me 8

I'm Tired of Writing About My Childhood 10

I Want to Go to Them and Say Stop 12

The Men 15

I'm Not Mad at My Mother for Teaching Me How to Shave My Legs 16

Home Training 17

Acceptance Speech 20

So What If I Was Born Wanting Both 24

Always I Have Been Trying to Show Her 27

Who Is Responsible for the Suffering of Your Sister? 29

I Trust You 30

II.

Dear Life	33
In the Other Universe, I Have a Bear Tattoo	36
The Thing Itself	37
Second Person	40
What I Wanted to Keep Private	43
En Plein Air	45
Interpenetration and Extension	46
When It's Over	47
This One's Going to Be About Birds	50

III.

Upon Learning They Dress Up as Bears to Take Care of the Motherless Cub at the Zoo	53
Cold Turkey	55
In the Wilderness	57
I Still Have to Try Not to Call You	59
The Speaker's Husband	60
Multiverse Elegy Ending with the Dream in Which She's Mine	64
It's Not the Body's Fault	66
How the Night Ends	67

IV.

I Can't Stop Thinking About that Sleepover at the Science Museum in 1987	71
In Which I Reach for a Metaphor for Idealization and Find the Moon as Usual	73
After	74
The Self-Love Museum	76
Notes	85
Acknowledgments	87